

time was one of the worst things that could have happened to me."

The details of the strained relations between the two dead men were gathered immediately after the murder of Burdick and before the death of Pennell. Pennell stated frankly to the authorities that the relations between himself and Burdick were "strained—very strained."

Notwithstanding all the talk about Pennell, however, the authorities are not consenting calmly to shoulder the Burdick tragedy upon a dead man. There are a number of points to be considered before any such branding of a dead man becomes a finality or even is accepted as being a part solution of the mystery.

Significant Clues.

One of the criminal authorities is quoted as saying: "There are several reasons to believe three things. First, that the murder was committed by more than one person; second, that at least one of the persons implicated was entirely familiar with the interior of the Burdick home, and what perhaps is most important of all is (third), that the murdered or murderers had no fear of interruption while at their work or immediately afterward. On the first point I do not care to say much."

"As to the second point, familiarity with the interior of the house, I may point to the fact that after the work was done the murderer washed his or her hands, and therefore must have known where a wash basin was to be found. That he or she washed his or her hands is sure; for, although there was blood on the inside knob of the door, there was no blood on the knob of the outer door to the house, which had been purposely left open for the purpose of creating the impression that burglars had entered the house. Familiarity with the house is also shown by the fact that the lunch was not brought to the den by Burdick, but by some other person."

"The analysis of the contents of Burdick's stomach shows that he had not tasted of a particle of the crackers, cheese and tart found on the table in the den. Deliberation and freedom from fear of apprehension is shown by the fact that the murderer took time to do many things which a person in fear of discovery would not have done."

ARCANUM OFFICERS TO HOLD ANNUAL SESSION

Council Reunion and Election of Officers in April.

The Grand Council of the Royal Arcanum of the District of Columbia, will hold its annual session in this city on April 6, 7 and 8, in the Scottish Rite Hall, 1007 G Street northwest. The meeting on Monday night will be devoted to the reunion of the council, followed by the election of officers for the coming year.

On Tuesday night the business session of the yearly meeting will be held, at which time reports will be taken forward the creation of a Royal Arcanum building and also the forming of a hospital fund association. Wednesday night the unfinished business will be taken up and the closing session will be held, followed by a banquet in the hall.

Webster C. Weiss, of Bethlehem, Pa., will be present as a deputy of the supreme regent, and will act as installing officer. In addition to the Supreme Council of the District, there are eight subordinate councils, the total membership of which is 3,600. There are 258,746 members of the Royal Arcanum in the United States and Canada.

The officers of the Grand Council are: W. H. Brigham, grand regent; R. G. Skerrett, grand vice regent; John D. Biddle, grand orator; Tom J. Landragan, past grand regent; Benjamin White, grand secretary; N. S. Faucett, grand treasurer; J. Edward Swain, grand chaplain; George A. Chopenhaver, grand guide; W. J. Haymaker, grand warden, and W. L. Evans, grand sentry.

THREATENS TO TIE UP EVERY WHEEL IN CITY

Street Railway Association Determined to Win Waterbury Strike.

WATERBURY, Conn., March 19.—"Everybody knows that I would do everything possible to avert strikes and labor troubles, but we are out to win this fight, and win it we will. If we have to stop every wheel and tie up every industry in Waterbury."

This is the utterance of President W. D. Mahon, of the International Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employees, who went to New York yesterday to see President A. M. Young, of the Connecticut Railway and Lighting Company. The only word from him today is that he has enlisted the support of the National Civic Federation in New York.

This noon the Citizens' Alliance held a mass meeting. The board of trustees of the reserve fund of the police department has voted a pension of $300 a year to the widow of Policeman Mendelsohn, which, with what the trolley company gives her, makes a total of $900 a year.

Meetings of all the manufacturers in this city and vicinity will be held with a view to acting promptly on a general strike of the labor union employees in every factory in the city, which is threatened by the officers of the National Trolleyman's Association. The threat of President Mahon, of the trolleyman's organization, has come with such suddenness that the manufacturers have decided on no plan of action. Some of them favor a general shut down, with an appeal to the governor for troops. Others wish to try securing help from outside to take the place of strikers who leave the factories.

They say that in many factories not half of the employees are union labor men or women, and that enough additional help can be recruited to take the places of those who quit work.

BODY OF ALLEGED WIFE SLAYER FOUND IN LAKE

Had Made Sure of Death by First Taking Paris Green.

FALL RIVER, Mass., March 19.—The body of Amadee Chabot, who was sought by the police for the murder of his wife, Angele Chabot, was found yesterday afternoon in North Watuppa Lake, about a mile from the scene of the murder.

Officers found Chabot's coat near the Crystal Ice Company's house, and near by a quantity of Paris green. A look into the water revealed the body. Chabot had evidently taken some of the poison and then jumped into the lake.

TO STAND TRIAL

Justice Anderson yesterday signed an order requiring Dr. Richardson, superintendent of St. Elizabeth's Hospital for the Insane, to produce George White in court to stand trial. It is explained that on January 29 last, White was found not guilty of a charge of housebreaking, on the ground of insanity. Attention of the court has been called to the fact that White is now sane.

COAL STRIKE REPORT NOT LIKELY TO LEAK OUT

Findings of Commission to Be Given Out Saturday.

Extraordinary precautions have been taken to prevent premature publication of the verdict of the Anthracite Coal Strike Commission. All members and employees of the commission are pledged to secrecy in the matter.

There is little chance of the findings becoming known before the date set for their promulgation, next Saturday morning. Col. Carroll D. Wright, recorder of the commission, will at that time furnish copies to representatives of the press in Washington.

This is the President's own plan. His intention is to mail copies of the report on Friday afternoon to President Mitchell, of the United Mine Workers, and to the representatives of the operators, so that they will reach their destination at about the same time that the report is made public in Washington.

The recommendations of the commission comprise about 1,500 words. These are accompanied by a voluminous review of the testimony said to contain about 35,000 words.

The members of the commission absolutely refuse to discuss the various forecasts of their findings printed this morning in the "New York Journal and American," further than to say that they are the result of pure guesswork. It is stated on authority that as yet there has been no leak, despite the many efforts by newspaper correspondents and others to obtain an inkling of the verdict.

The following is the "Journal" forecast referred to:

"Coal miners are to receive an increase of 15 per cent in wages from the time they went to work, ending the strike."

"Coal is to be paid for by weight. Coal miners will be entitled to a check weighman, who is to be a person in sympathy with the miners, and his services are to be paid for by the miners themselves."

"The weighing of the coal is to be done at the tipple."

"The award of the commission is to remain operative for three years."

"The commission ignored the non-union miners as a party before it, but protection must be given to non-union men."

"As to the source of its information the 'Journal' says: 'The main facts in the commission report were obtained from a most trustworthy authority.'"

JURY UNABLE TO AGREE.

In the case of Hamilton S. Perrine, indicted for obtaining money under false pretenses, the jury failed to agree on a verdict and was discharged from further consideration of the matter.

IRA D. SANKEY BLIND AND FAILING RAPIDLY

Famous Evangelist's Condition More Serious Than Reported.

EASTPORT, L. I., March 19.—A member of Ira D. Sankey's family who has been in this village during the past few days superintending the sale of articles at the famous evangelist's home here intimates that the condition of the famous singer is more serious than has been reported.

In addition to being almost blind, Mr. Sankey is low, and a fatal complication of his nervous trouble at any moment would not produce surprise. On leaving his summer cottage here last fall it was Mr. Sankey's avowed intention to visit the mountains next summer, where the change might benefit his health. His sudden and alarming decline during the past few days, however, would seem to preclude the possibility of realizing such a hope, and the famous singer is probably destined to pass his remaining days in the darkened room of his Brookline home.

MR. CARNEGIE OFFERS CORNELL PURE WATER

Writes President Schurman Asking Permission to Pay for Filtration Plant.

ITHACA, N. Y., March 19.—President Schurman, of Cornell University, has received the following letter from Andrew Carnegie, offering to pay for the projected Cornell filtering plant:

"Fernandina, Fla., March 13, 1933. 'My Dear Mr. President:

'I have followed with anxious interest your sad plight regarding pure water. Today I read with relief that Cornell has contracted for a filtering plant of its own. If the trustees would permit me to pay for it I shall be very grateful indeed.'"

Although no case of typhoid fever has been traced to water from Fall Creek, which supplies Cornell University, the trustees, with a view to protecting the university, ordered the filtration plant to be completed by April 10. The trustees will undoubtedly accept Mr. Carnegie's offer at their next meeting.

POLICE TO INVESTigate BOXING IN CHURCH CLUB

Members Say There Will Be No More Affairs Where Towels and Seconds Are Used.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Boxing bouts at the Jarvie Memorial Building, under the auspices of the Men's Club of the Westminster Presbyterian Church, Bloomfield, N. J., are to be investigated by the chief of police and the police committee, to ascertain if the town ordinance which prohibits such exhibitions has been violated.

One of the members of the club said yesterday that there would be no more events of the kind given by the organization. While boxing is not objected to in an informal way as a pastime, it is said the introduction of towels and seconds will not be permitted.

CLOVER SEED WORTHLESS.

The Department of Agriculture denies that it is advising American farmers to buy Egyptian clover seed. The officials say that the plant can only be grown in central Florida and extreme southern Texas.
